Embracing Affection: The Power of Hugs in 2014.

thelifeofmine3.wordpress.com/2022/03/13/hugs-2014/

March 13, 2022

I find great joy in hugging people. Babitha, Jeba, and Kalai were the friends who embraced me, and I absolutely love that gesture. It symbolizes a deep level of affection and care for someone who is missed, and it’s something I longed for. I wished I could hug both Prici and my younger sibling at the same time, as it would be a beautiful expression of love and connection.